

AN-ACC and Care Minutes

Many homes deliver more care than their funding reflects because the clinical story isn't reaching the classification.

Actively managing AN-ACC and care minutes has become a priority that shapes both the subsidy you receive and the compliance you carry.

Classification errors can quietly reduce subsidy, often without triggering any alert in your systems, while shortfalls against care minute targets carry financial penalties and reputational risk.

The opportunity is to close that gap, so funding follows the care already being delivered. Pride Aged Living translates care complexity into funding accuracy — working hands-on with your clinical and operational teams to get practical outcomes.
